A new Mutual Fund for 20somethings!

While I was searching the web, I came across this new fund targeted to 20somethings.

The Thrasher Fund, include major holdings such as companies to the young generation. Polo Ralph Lauren, Louis Vuitton Moet Hennessey, Best Buy, Abercrombie & Fitch and more.

The names are geared to attract most college age kids.

I have to say Thrasher Funds are the first to target this untapped market. Kudos to them for being the first!!!

Another reason to get your college-age kid/neice/nephew involve in investing!!

A few facts about the fund:

Minimum Investment: $100 with $50/month minimum Automatic Investment Plan.

There is no AIP requirement for initial investments over $2,500.

FEES

Management Fee: 1.00%

Overall Expense Ratio: Contractually Capped at 1.50%

Redemption Fee: 2.00% if shares are redeemed within 12 months (There is no fee for taking your money out if you do it after the first year)

Account Maintenance Fee: $2/month for accounts under $2,500

You can also include The GendeX Fund in your IRA account. All fees and minimums are the same for IRA accounts.

I have to agree, that is probably why they have a low minimum investment.

It maybe best to go with a no load fund. But as I said the stock holdings attract 20somethings. So most will be interested in the stocks than the fees.

The game plan is to get younsters interested in investing.
